THE BRAVEHEARTED

By Edgar A. Guest

If you sit out there and mope it is vain to cherish hope. If you spend your day in whining never broken dream you'll mend. Though the skies above are clear, it's by faith and strength and cheer And by everlasting trying that man's troubles soonest end.

Sailors tossed by storms at sea, know that every man must be On the decks and at his duty or the vessel may be lost; And the passengers who wait at the howling of the gale Are compelled to keep their state-rooms till the sea is safely crossed.

So to me this life appears, when come dark and dangerous years, Not by whiners and by grumblers or the fearful and afraid, But by faithful men and true with the grit to dare and do And the willingness to battle are the better fortunes made.

Brave Hearted! That's a theme for a Graduation Exercises address. For after all, it's pretty hard for the world to defeat an individual with a brave heart.

As an example I want to tell about a case I was personally interested in. The young man in question should be an inspiration to many other young men, and proves what can be done.

My young friend graduated from high school in an Eastern town, and due to the fact that his parents were quite poor, it was necessary that he locate work of some sort and help pay the butcher and the baker and the candlestick maker. And so the young chap picked up a job in an office.

Now unfortunately, this young man's father was a habitual drunkard; one of those men who enjoy rolling around in the gutter and making a living hell for his family. With such environment, it was hardly to be expected that my young friend should secure very much inspiration from his home life to ascend the heights of success.

But this young man's employer was very much interested in young people. Very anxious to help them with their problems in any way possible. The result was that he soon became interested in his young employee, and urged him to go forward and make something of himself.

The young man at first put up the plea that with his home life such as it was, he could not arouse sufficient enthusiasm to want to lay out a course for future development. This was finally overcome by a suggestion from the employer that the young man rent a room elsewhere, and continue to give his mother a small weekly allowance.

And so this brave hearted youth under the advisement of his employer set out for a career. He decided to study electricity despite the contention that the field was overcrowded. He saved up several hundred dollars and went to Chicago and entered an electrical school. When his money ran out, he returned to the East and went to work again for his old employer and started in to save again. At the end of a year, he again returned to Chicago, and eventually finished up his course of study.

Today this young man is a research engineer for the Westinghouse Electric Company and is making a salary which would turn the heads of most young men. He did not secure this position upon his graduation from Chicago, however. As a matter of fact it took him several years of high effort and a brave heart to land up on the top of the heap, but—HE DID IT! I'm telling this little story in the hopes it will help other young men to see what can be accomplished with a brave heart.

GOV. JAMES ROLPH COMMENDS THE WEEKLY PAPERS

"Plays A Major Role in Moulding Public Opinion," Says Governor of the State of California

James Rolph, Jr., twenty-seventh Governor of California and one of the most colorful figures in the history of the state, has been asked by Stanley Bavier, editor of the Truckee Republican for an expression of his personal opinion as to the value of a small town newspaper. It was felt that whatever the Governor of the State of California had to say would be particularly interesting to the readers of the Republican.

Here is Governor Rolph's reply: STATE OF CALIFORNIA Governor's Office Sacramento

Mr. Stanley Bavier, Editor-Owner, The Truckee Republican, Truckee, California Dear Mr. Bavier:

In my opinion all newspapers play a role in molding public opinion throughout the nation, but I must admit that in many instances weekly newspapers play a major role in this regard.

I was struck by reading, the other day, of a strike which resulted in the suspension of publication of newspapers in a certain community for more than a week.

The dispatch told of innumerable and sensational rumors that arose concerning conditions in this country and in the rest of the world—rumors bred of lack of knowledge of what was going on, knowledge usually supplied by the Press.

Truly no better example of the value of the Press could have been given than was given in that story. We are so accustomed to receiving our morning, evening and weekly newspaper on time that they become routine in our daily lives. Such an emergency as quoted above is necessary with many of us, to awaken us to the great value of the Press.

With events of major importance crowding upon us day by day and hour by hour, our daily newspaper is absolutely essential to our welfare, but I must grant that the weekly newspaper, born of days of thought and preparation, is of extreme value in aiding us to reflect upon the news of the week and in assisting us to form a solid opinion of the events which have flickered through our lives like a film on the screen.

Very sincerely yours, JAMES ROLPH, JR., Governor of California

FORMER NEVADA COUNTY CLERK COUGHLAN DIES

George Coughlan, 75, and for 26 years county clerk of Nevada county and previous to that justice of the peace and city assessor, died in Nevada City on Tuesday after a short illness. He was a native of Nevada City, the son of pioneers. He leaves two brothers and four sisters.

He took a business course in San Francisco and engaged in clerical work before entering public life. The funeral will be Friday morning.

A Real Fisherman

For some time we have been telling our readers that when it comes to fishing, we would match August Sassarini, a Truckee grammar school boy, against anyone.

Well, last night along about sundown, when the evening shadows began to fall, August picked up his fish pole and started up the river.

Now August didn't make any rash promises. He's not that kind of a chap. He just smiled and whistled a bit and kept on going. And by and by he came back to town, and what do you think he had in his fish basket? Just the prettiest two and a half pound trout you ever set your eyes on. Gee—it was a beauty!

Yes, Sir! When it comes to fishing, you'll have to admit August is the boy champion in these mountains.

Good work, August. We're for you.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY IS "SIX MONTHS TO GO"

Will Present Their Annual Play in Masonic Hall Tomorrow Night. Interesting Story With Lots of Action

The Meadow Lake Union High School will present their annual play next Friday night, May twenty-sixth in the Masonic Hall. It is being put on mainly by the Senior Class. The cast of the play, "Six Months To Go," consists of:

Ned Norton Earl Edmunds
Beth Brewster Claudia Bick
Alfred Norton Jack Chubbuck
Mr. Henry Norton Joe Passinetti
Mrs. Norton Louise Bolender
Mr. Jim Brewster Geno Geni
Mrs. Brewster Jean Kendrick
Mr. Dennis Carlo Guidi
"Dad" Holmes Orlan Sanders
Mrs. Potter Glenda Talcott

It is an interesting story of a happy-go-lucky youth who fights his way to success when he is at last awakened from his irresponsibility. Six-month threats help! It is a human and appealing play which you will enjoy.

The music for the evening will be furnished by the Nevada City high school band under the direction of L. E. Sweeney. This band participated in the state contest of high school bands in the Civic Auditorium in San Francisco on May 13 winning the Class C award.

BIG CHIEF CAMP WILL OPEN UP MEMORIAL DAY

Frank Ingram, popular resort owner, who owns and operates BIG CHIEF CAMP, located on the Truckee River between Truckee and Lake Tahoe, was in town a few days ago and stated that he will open up his resort on May 30th.

Some of the best fishing in the region is to be had in the vicinity of this camp.

SAN FRANCISCO ASSEMBLYMAN PAYS TRUCKEE A VISIT

State Assemblyman McMurray, together with Mrs. McMurray, and Frank Reid of the Department of Motor Vehicles, and Mrs. Reid, were local guests in town last Tuesday. Both Mr. McMurray and Mr. Reid smoke most favorably of Truckee and the region.

'BLOSSOMING OF MARY ANNE' WINS APPLAUSE

"The Blossoming of Mary Anne," a romantic comedy presented by local talent to a packed house last Saturday evening, was enthusiastically received by the audience.

The play was most ably presented by our own local young men and women under the effective directorship of Father Moran, who has attained a wide reputation for producing amateur plays.

Each one in the cast deserves high commendation.

GOLD RUSH FURIOUS BUT SHORT LIFE

$1,200.00 In Twenty Dollar Gold Pieces Found In Two Hours and Then—

Sounds like a story book story, but it's true, every word of it.

It happened last Tuesday morning. Everything was quiet and serene along Commercial Row when all of a sudden Sigmond Aich, a retired carpenter, appeared with both hands full of glittering, golden $20 gold pieces. "It's fake money," said a man whom he showed it to, "I wouldn't give you a dime for the whole lot." But—alas—it was not fake money, it was real money, and it amounted to $620.

Someone became suspicious, and called the State Highway Patrol Station. Traffic Officer Ernest Barret and Inspector Glenn Morey hustled to Commercial Row in a hurry. Sigmond was closely questioned by the officers. He told them all about it. "I found it in the field just beyond Miguel's Garage," he insisted. Everyone made a rush for the field in question, and started in looking for gold. A dozen or so people found more bright and shiny $20 gold pieces amounting to $580. By this time the field was a mass of people, all eager bent on getting a share of the new found gold.

And then the mystery was solved. Last Monday night Traffic Officer Ernest Barret received advice at 11:15 P. M. to be on the lookout for a man who had—it was claimed by the Nevada City police—robbed an old man of $1,200 in twenty dollar gold pieces. It was thought the man was headed towards Truckee. Just fifteen minutes after Officer Barret received the telephone call he spotted a car going around the corner of Commercial Row and Bank Street, with the registration numbers given to him a few moments before from Nevada City. He quickly jumped into his car and gave chase to the car. Sounding his siren he forced the man from Nevada City to stop just up the Reno road. The man was taken into custody but stated that he had not stolen the gold referred to. He was, he stated merely on his way to Reno to consult a lawyer over some difficulty his boy had gotten into. Officer Barret and Inspector Carl Smith and Tom Dolley got in touch with Nevada City, and a deputy sheriff came over from the county seat and took the prisoner back at 4:30 A. M.

It seems that after Officer Barret sounded his siren, the man from Nevada City, whose name, by the way is Joe Harvey, and who is a miner, apparently knew the game was up and threw the gold into the field as he passed by.

The police have recovered the money and will return it to the old man in Nevada City.

Forty Hours Devotion For Blessed Sacrament At Catholic Church

Announcement has been made that there will be a special Devotion Service at the local Catholic Church to begin immediately after the ten o'clock A. M. Mass next Sunday.

The choir is busy rehearsing for the special music to be given, and the children dressed in white with veils are getting ready for the procession.

The ladies of the parish are busy making arrangements for the floral decoration of the altar.

Devotion will close at 7:30 P. M. Sunday evening with a sermon by Rev. P. J. Moran on—"Institution of the Holy Eucharist"—as a subject followed by the benediction

RENO SPORTSMAN LANDS A LARGE RAINBOW TROUT

Jim McKay, well known Reno sportsman, had the luck to land a large six pounds and fourteen ounce rainbow trout last Monday evening up on the Truckee River near Squaw Creek.

The trout is the finest caught thus far this season.

LEGION BARNYARD FROLIC AND DANCE NEXT SAT. NIGHT

Truckee Post, American Legion have things in all tip-top shape for the big BARNYARD FROLIC and DANCE to be held in Legion Hall next Saturday evening.

The boys promise something bigger and better than last time—if such is possible—and there will be no end of snappy novelty acts and athletic contests.

If you have not secured your ticket for this big event, be sure to get one today as they are going fast, and will be sold out before the big show starts Saturday night.

SACRAMENTO—(CPS) — People have got to quit trying to mail letters in fire alarm boxes, says Fire Chief M. J. Dunphy, after the fourth such "false alarm" had been turned in in one week.

PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTISERS

The Truckee Republican, which has been working for some time to have the California Fish and Game Commission establish rearing ponds on the Truckee River, in order to assist in making the Truckee River the best rainbow trout stream in America, has received another communication from John L. Farley, executive officer of the State Fish and Game Commission, with headquarters in San Francisco, stating that he is unable to say more definitely at this time what can be done towards rearing ponds on the Truckee River due to the legislature cutting down the amount of money available for the work of the Commission by slightly over $300,000.

This information will be received with keen regret by the people of this region, as it has been urgently hoped that the rearing ponds could be constructed during this summer.

The seriousness of the lack of a State rearing pond in this region is well known by all fishermen. With the heavy demand made on the river by fishermen from all over the country, it is most essential that the waters are kept properly stocked with fish. The stocking of the river is most important to the success of the region, as the inducements offered to the vacationist play the stellar role in the development program.

Mr. Farley's letter reads as follows:

DIVISION OF FISH AND GAME
San Francisco, Calif.
Mr. Stanley Bavier,
Editor, Truckee Republican,
Truckee, California
Dear Mr. Bavier:

I am unable to say more definitely at this time what can be done towards rearing ponds on the Truckee River, inasmuch as the Legislature has reduced the amount of money available for the work of the Fish and Game Commission by slightly over $300,000 from the amount which was requested by the Commission, and which would be available in the fish and game preservation fund during the next biennium. It will be necessary to make substantial reductions in our operations for the next two years, and it is probable that no new projects can be undertaken.

Sincerely yours,
JOHN L. FARLEY
Executive Officer

A SPLENDID IDEA

The suggestion has been made to move the memorial which is located at the California-Nevada state line, to Truckee and place it on the main thoroughfare alongside the Southern Pacific Company's Station property, and make a plaza or small park with trees, shrubs, flowers and a fountain.

The idea is a splendid one, and well worth getting into and carrying thru.

The memorial is far too beautiful to be stuck up on the mountains, far away from town, where visitors to this section of the state, are not offered a consistent opportunity to stop and look it over.

A small park with trees, shrubs, flowers and a fountain and benches with the memorial as the center of interest, would be a distinct asset to Truckee.

Such a park and memorial would not only be the means of greatly increasing the attractiveness of the town, but it would be something the town might well be proud of.

The establishing of such a park with the memorial would also enable the town to have a suitable spot to conduct Memorial Day and Armistice Day services each year.

"DRY THOSE TEARS—"

The dyed-in-the-wool Republicans seem to be very much perturbed over the dropping of the name "Hoover" from the great Colorado River development which has been commonly known as the Boulder Dam since the plan was first conceived.

In an editorial wail of lamentation entitled—"UNKIND ACT," published in one of the dyed-in-the-wool Republican newspapers, it is stated—"In all probability it (the dropping of the name Hoover) was suggested if not demanded by the same enemies of the former president who performed to the limit their abilities to ruin his administration."

Such an utterance is nothing but pure hysterical rubbish. The adoption of the word "Hoover" to the Boulder Dam project by a group of Hooverites in an effort to flatter and gain the favor of the former president, was nothing but politics of the mediocre type. And this clumsy political gesture brought with it nothing but confusion.

The Colorado River project has always been known as the Boulder Dam, and not one out of ten persons on the street knew what you were talking about when you mentioned the "Hoover Dam."

If Herbert Hoover's enemies never do anything more serious to him than to straighten out a messed-up name involved by a group of political patronage seekers, he is to be highly congratulated.

"PARKS OR PEOPLE"

An editorial in one of the San Francisco newspapers criticizes Mr. Ickes, Secretary of the Interior for seeking ways and means for protecting our national parks so that the coming generations of Americans may be able to enjoy them as well as the present.

Because Mr. Ickes does not believe that the American tourists should break branches, tear up flowers and generally make themselves a nuisance by failing to protect our national parks, this San Francisco editor feels that the Secretary of the Interior is taking the national parks away from the people.

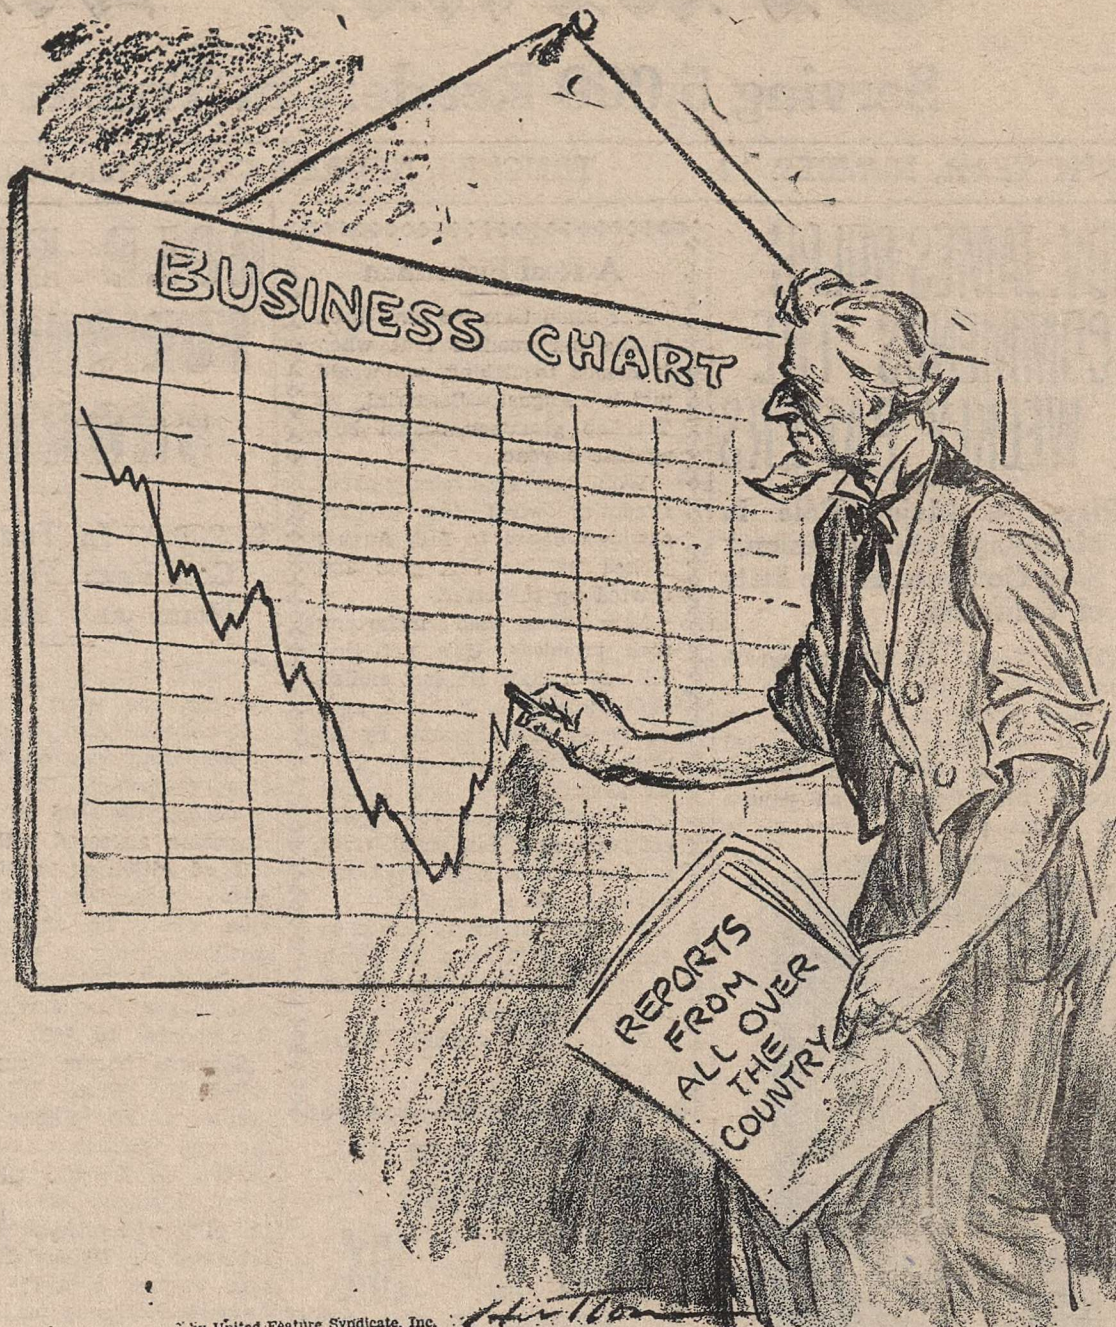

With this foolish reasoning, it is to be presumed that this same San Francisco editor doubtlessly also believes that it is a misdemeanor for the custodians of the public art galleries to properly protect the priceless works of art entrusted to their care from the ravages of those who would quickly damage them if given half a chance.

Instead of condemning the Secretary of the Interior for his desire to protect the national parks for the future generations, he is to be most highly commended.

Those of us who live up here in the Tahoe National Forest can attest to what would happen to our own beloved and beautiful forest and trails were it not for the rigid discipline exercised by the forest rangers and their associates who are continually on the alert to protect it against vandalism.

There is a class of hoodlums and ruffians who take keen delight in destroying everything they come in contact with when they get into a national park. It is this type of tourist which the Secretary of the Interior has declared war on, and he is fully justified in taking any steps which he sees fit in order to protect the national parks, and preserving them for all time to come.

IN A JAPANESE THEATRE

The theatre has always been a favorite form of recreation among the Japanese, and especially beloved of the Japanese woman, for it is her only amusement, and the only public place where she may accompany her husband.

The theatre of old Japan, with its strutting legendary heroes, its ancient costumes, and actors who carried their own lanterns in order to light the expressions of their faces, is practically a thing of the past. While many of the old customs still survive, modern inventions and appliances have been grafted upon them with the effect of producing some startling contrasts. The Japs, eager to grasp European ideas and fashions, have made use of some, but left many as they have been for generations.

For instance, in the most progressive and up to date theatre in Tokyo they have electric lights (no footlights, however), and a European orchestra, but still make the exits and entrances along a raised platform running back through the theatre above the heads of the people. This platform is called "The Flowery Way," and has been used for generations.

The entire floor of the theatre is divided into little boxes about four feet square, by partitions not more than four or five inches high. About five yen are paid for these boxes, and they hold four people, who kneel on matting rugs.

The best seats are the boxes along the sides of the balcony, which also hold four people, and cost six yen. As a yen is worth fifty cents of American money, it may be seen that the prices of Japanese theatres, by comparison with those of Europe or America, are very reasonable.

Cheaper seats are to be had back of a walkway on the lower floor, and the cheapest of all are in the back part of the balcony, which compares with the gallery in an American theatre.

The play proceeds through several acts, to a European or American in rather disjointed manner and without much sequence, but with no lack of fine acting.

Just before the last act the ushers bring in the sandals and clogs that have been checked, so there will be no confusion and delay when the theatre is out.

But three days are allowed for rehearsal, and in that time they must be better perfect, for a Japanese audience is a critical one.

Approval is announced by clapping the hands, but audible comments are frequent.—From "Smiling 'Round the World," by Marshall P. Wilder. (Fung & Wagnalls Co., Publishers, 1908.)

The Washing Day

The little cottage on the shore—
Has clothes lines woven in and out;
The waves come almost to the door,
And all the linen pinned about
Catches the freshness of the gales;
And, leaning to the waterside,
Gathers the wind, like sunny sails
Ready to journey with the tide

There, where the sparkling waters spread
Their foaming ripples at the feet,
The linen dangles overhead
Flapping, fluttering, clean and sweet
Below the hillside's grassy slopes
Above the fringes of the bay
It tugs against the taunted ropes
Full of its breezy holiday.

Some Interesting Facts About Stomach Ulcers and Their Treatment

By CLAUD NORTH CHRISMAN, M.D.

THERE was probably no true accounting ever made of the sufferers from stomach ulcers.

In addition to all who actually have stomach or intestinal lesions of the ulcerative type, there are untold others who think they have them, which is about as bad.

The most interesting recent pronouncement is that treatment for stomach ulcer is becoming individualized and is based on the patient's own particular case. At any rate, he wants something more than advice "to take some baking soda, and to watch his diet."

CERTAINLY it is suggestive to know just where the patient localizes his pain (if he can tell), the type of distress, whether burning, pressing, gnawing, boring, or cramping. The length of time which intervenes between the taking of food and the development of pain has its significance. At least a third of the patients in a recent survey were awakened at night by distress. This indicated in a marked way the delay in emptying the organ contents and was an intimation that the gastric area was still at work when it should have been resting. Local tenderness on pressure is not so dependable owing to frequent referred pain.

THE X-ray has performed miracles for us in revealing these internal conditions. Every part of specific continuance should come under the revelations of the Roentgen Ray. The recent survey I have mentioned which was based on approximately two thousand cases revealed that two-thirds of them were needing only medical treatment and half of these recovered entirely. Only about twenty per cent of the cases in this class now applying for hospital treatment are referred to the surgical department.

THE spirited person, who is proud of being called a "human dynamo" will be possibly disturbed to find that his tendencies to energetic expenditures put him in "class A" of ulcer suspects. Very interesting experiments are being reported as to the possible connection between gastric ulcer and chronic appendicitis or gall stones as well as other types of infection. The gastric ulcer is an evidence of disturbance in the stomach's two special functions, those of secretion and of motility. In turn these two functions cause the pain by furthering irritation and by stricture, and thus tend to interfere with healing.

THE Cleveland Clinic under Dr. George Crile is affording us some clarification of the maze in which this subject is still enveloped. Further knowledge must be classified regarding infections and especially the contributions made by glandular super-activity toward affording a predisposition to this distress.

WHENEVER I mention sun-tanning, I always receive letters from many of you protesting that you really wouldn't mind if only you could tan, but that all you can do is to look in your mirror, be very cool, acquire a bit of bleach to try to get rid of freckles. To many of you this means that a part of the joy of summer is lost. You forego such healthful pleasures as swimming and tennis because of your self-consciousness when the freckles do pop out.

Why are you so dreadfully self-conscious about them? They are so youthful and gay and debonair! They are a part of the mysterious things in your make-up that make you you. Yet you do feel that way and all that I can do about it is to accede to your demands and tell you how to prevent them, for prevention is the only cure.

Garden Charm

Every garden has its particular charm, and rarely is one to be seen from which we can turn without having gained a new idea of a color arrangement, of certain plants in wonderful perfection, of something which gives delight and inspiration. The little gardens about laborers' cottages, where the few flowers mean so much to the man or woman who cares for them in moments before or after a long day's toil, touch the heart as no great garden can, however complete, with all that nature and art combined, are able to accomplish.

Every lover of flowers has her own ideas upon the subject of gardening. My ideal garden is one a little distance from the house and so surrounded by trees and enclosed by hedges that the windows of the house cannot look down upon it. A lovely out of doors room, as it were, neat and orderly as the rooms of the house; every plant brought to its highest development, and nature, trained by man, giving constant and luxuriant bloom; where the green setting of trees, hedges, box edging and fine turf, and the colors blending without a jarring note, fill us with a sense of delight and thanksgiving for the beauty of the spot. A place where we may walk or talk, read or work, quite unobserved, with the sunshine all around, yet seated in cool shade, the murmuring of falling water, together with the exquisite notes of the song sparrow, or the liquid call of the catbird in our ears.

Where can any place on this earth be found more exquisite and peaceful?—From Helena Rutherford Ely's "Color Arrangements of Flowers." (In Scribner's Magazine for March, 1910).

Chamber's Lodge, popular and beautiful west side resort, will open its doors to the public the end of this week, with special accommodations being made on Wednesday for patrons now en route to Chamber's.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Mayhew, residents of the Biltmore Hotel of Arizona, are spending some time at their Al Tahoe home, which they are remodeling. Mr. Mayhew will leave on Wednesday for Massachusetts where he will visit relatives. Mrs. Mayhew expects to remain here for the summer.

Miss Edith Slade of Auburn has arrived at Tahoe where she will engage in student teaching for a period of three weeks at the Tahoe Grammar School. She is making her residence at the home of Mrs. Robert Watson.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Prusso of Oakland, whose new home is now under construction near Ward Creek, accompanied by friends, spent the week end here.

Reno visitors on Tuesday were Mrs. Frank Armstrong and Mrs. Earl Nelson. Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hoerdler and daughter Patsy motored over on Friday and Saturday visitors included Mr. and Mrs. N. Pearsoll and Mrs. G. W. Mayhew and Tiny Nelson.

Mr. and Mrs. Chris Boyareides are the proud possessors of a new blue Dodge Sedan.

Mrs. Vanni and son Pete are back at Tahoe again after having spent the winter months with her son and family Mr. and Mrs. Renaldo Vanni of San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. Si Pierson and daughter Blanche left on Saturday to spend several days on business in Sacramento and San Francisco. They will return the first of the week.

Atherton's new grocery store is fast nearing completion and work is being rushed with the hopes of opening the end of May or the first of June. The Athertons will also operate the Standard Station in front of their store, and public rest rooms, a much needed convenience here, are to be erected near the building.

Glenn Nash, student at Sacramento Junior College is now at Tahoe. After returning to Sacramento to take his examinations, he will remain at the lake for the summer season.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford B. Hansen of Reno, who have a cottage at Brockway, were dinner guests on Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Anderson of Tahoe City.

Wm. A. Moore, 83-year-old resident of Santa Clara County, was a recent guest at Tahoe Inn. Mr. Moore, who had never visited these parts before, made the trip expressly to satisfy a curious desire which he has possessed for years. His father, way back in 1847, made his way in an oxcart with his family from one of the Dakotas to California, intending to settle in Oregon. On his way he met General Freeman, who told them of the cessation of hostilities in the then wild and woolly west, so he changed his plans and settled here instead, visiting Tahoe during his early travels and telling many exciting tales about this beautiful country. Mr. Moore was charmed with Tahoe's wonders and more than delighted that he made the trip. He came up to Grass Valley last week to attend the Native Sons' Convention there.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Hall of Beeville, Texas, were guests of Tahoe Inn last week end. Mr. Hall is manager of one of the largest chains of theatres in that state.

Other visitors were Mr. Merch of the Examiner and Martin Blank of the Ass't. Milk Co. of Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Becholdt and sons Billie and Carl, accompanied by Ruby Chatterton and Matt Dromlack of Reno, motored to Moans Hot Springs last week end to attend a scheduled rodeo, but rain prevented it being held. They were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Geyser, owners of Moana.

On May 14th Mr. and Mrs. Carl Becholdt celebrated their 21st wedding anniversary, and also their son Carl's birthday, (his 14th). Mr. and Mrs. Joe Geyser, who accompanied them, assisted in celebrating the occasion. A marvelous dinner and evening of entertainment were enjoyed by the party at Gene Ferrari's resort near Reno.

Fishing season on the Truckee River opened on the morning of the 15th and many Tahoe fishermen who for weeks had been conditioning their rods and reels, were on the job bright and early, most of them securing very gratifying results, altho no exceptionally large fish were reported caught on opening day by local fishermen.

Mrs. J. P. Obexer, her son Herbert and James Worden were week end visitors in Lincoln last week guests of her mother, Mrs. Harry Williams.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott Cochran, Mrs. Jack Almquist and Miss Elizabeth Almquist were recent visitors in Oakland where they went to attend a wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Massey of Santa Barbara were guests for several days last week of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Pomin of the Pope Estate. Mrs. Massey is a sister of Mrs. Pomin.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hoerdler will operate the lunch car near the Standard Station at the Y in Tahoe for the summer season, opening around the end of May or first of June. Your patronage is invited.

Mrs. W. E. Jones of Antioch anticipates occupying her Homewood residence on or around the 25th of May.

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Worden made a business trip to Sacramento on Thursday.

Otto Fox, professor of music at Placer Union High School in Auburn, has been engaged to instruct the pupils of Tahoe schools who will comprise the new orchestra here. We feel that Tahoe is fortunate in securing Mr. Fox, as he is highly efficient in his chosen profession. Tentative plans formulated list the following youngsters and the instruments of their choice and adaptability: Charles Hendrickson, cornet; Billie Becholdt, drums; Donald Cowell, drums; David Renner, trumpet; Kathleen Anderson, violin; Margaret Luhrs, mandolin; Robert Cowell, guitar; Marilyn Hinkle, violin; Alice Soll, violin; Betty Turnley, alto horn; Malcolm Walker, violin; Patsy Henry, guitar; Florence Vernon, xylophone and piano; Mary Jane Soll, guitar; and Pete Vanni, violin. There are others, of course, who have not as yet designated their preference.

The problem now confronting the new orchestra is securing by popular subscription, card parties, basket lunches and similar means, sufficient funds to defray the expenses of buying extra instruments and paying for instructions. The school club, by selling subscriptions to their weekly paper "Tahoe Chat" and donations, can probably finance their first month. Some help is anticipated for the second month from the local school district, and the proceeds of the annual opera to be given at the Tavern should go a long way toward the third month's instruction. However the initial cost of instruments, music and incidentals will be the hardest financial hurdle for them to overcome. Therefore a campaign of popular subscriptions is being started this week for the purpose of swelling the music fund to its needed proportions. To any who wish to send in donations for this worthy cause, the sincere gratitude of the children is extended. Carl Becholdt and Mrs. Charles Swanson are in active charge of the campaign.

The first mail of the summer season was distributed on Sunday, May 21st, much to the delight of the inhabitants.

Mr. H. F. Droste left on Tuesday to spend several days in Oakland on business.

Warden's Camp near Ward Creek is open this week for the summer season. As there is also a grocery

MEEK'S BAY NEWS ITEMS

By Mrs. Chas. Heller

Mr. Geo. Kehlet, manager of Meek's Bay Resort, was host on Sunday evening complimenting Mr. and Mrs. Roy Neblett of Sacramento, who are guests of the resort. Bridge was the evening's diversion and at a late hour dainty refreshments were served. Those enjoying Mr. Kehlet's hospitality were: Mr. and Mrs. Roy Neblett of Sacramento, Mr. and Mrs. Gibson Benadum of Pasadena, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Heller of Meek's Bay, and Miss Pearl Chilson of San Francisco.

Mrs. Chas. Heller of Meek's Bay was pleasantly surprised on Monday evening by a coterie of friends and co-workers who joined in a group to wish Mrs. Heller many happy returns of the day on the occasion of her birthday. After the hearty felicitations the party retired to the new beautifully decorated wing of the clubhouse, where tables were laid for bridge. Later refreshments were served. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Roy Neblett of Sacramento, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Henry of Tahoe City, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dirhold of Eagle Rock, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hale and son Frank of San Francisco, Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Baker of Bakersfield, Mr. and Mrs. Will Blalock and daughter Thelma of Roseburg, Oregon, Mr. and Mrs. Gibson Benadum, Mr. and Mrs. Milo Ferguson of Long Beach, Mr. Geo. Kehlet of Alhambra, Mr. Hans Hansen of Rubicon Lodge, and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Heller. Mrs. Heller was the recipient of many beautiful gifts.

OVER THERE 1933

In far off France they lie in foreign field

The boys who held the line and would not yield.

Buddies they were and buddies they still are,

Who paid their price and are in lands afar.

Memorial day is theirs, we honor them

But we do not forget the other men

The Spanish heroes and the G. A. R.

Who heard their taps and entered gates ajar.

The women too, God bless them every one.

The Red Cross, Salvation Army girls, their work well done

The entertainers who cheered us at the "Y"

And members of the Knights who helped us try.

To them another thirtieth of May

We well recall their work to help us play.

So Truckee joins the nation at this hour,

To pay respect to those who gave the power.

They gave their all and they are with us yet,

Their deeds of valor we will ne'er forget.

So Taps, hats off, respect, and honors to

The host that sleep beneath the morning dew.

Duck in the Rain

You face the rain as one might greet

An old friend gladly feted;

You teeter on your orange feet

In pleasure unabated;

The quick drops on your oily back

Call forth your loud, approving quack;

The wet's appreciated.

Though one suspects the rain was meant

For April blossoms, tender;

Though wells and meadows may have been

The concern of the Sender,

No flower nor farmer, sage nor swain,

However he delight in rain,

Such gratitude will render.

Sunday guests at the Earl Nelson home in Tahoe City included Mr. and Mrs. M. Butler, Mr. and Mrs. H. Bank, Mr. and Mrs. T. Bath, Chick Welch and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Harden.

The Letter Box

Mr. Stanley Bavier,
The Truckee Republican

Dear Sir:

As a newspaper man of 20 years experience and special writer for the Beverly Hills Citizen, and South Coast News, weekly papers, may I compliment you and Mr. A. P. Giannini on the splendid letter regarding the weeklies in your paper of May 1.

Have been taught that the weekly newspaper of any community is the show window of that community. The news in the columns gives the names and the doings of one's neighbors and one's friends. The weekly is a historical record of the community doings, deaths, births, marriages, and other events of great importance chronicled for the purpose of keeping the community informed.

The weekly newspaper is an asset boosting all affairs that pertain to the betterment and the expansion of the community.

The advertising columns of a weekly paper are where the business men tell of their wares in the columns of the press in the same manner in which they place their goods in the show windows. All hail the weekly and job print office. We need them and always will as an expression and a major factor of every live community.

The Tahoe district has just welcomed the return of Mr. and Mrs. P. B. De Camp of Lansing, Michigan, for the summer season. Paul De Camp was at the Lake in 1929 and he is now bringing his bride, the former Miss Catherine Donnelly of Oklahoma City, to the Lake.

Other new arrivals are Mr. Menlo Crawford of Beverly Hills, prominent golfer of the Brentwood Country Club, formerly of New York university and prominent in New York university circles. Mr. Crawford is accompanied to the Lake by Griffith Bonner, who in social circles has the title of Count Henri de Antioches, of Paris, France. Mr. Bonner is a New Yorker and grandson of the late millionaire publisher, Robert Bonner of the New York Ledger and owner of the fastest and most expensive trotting stock in the United States. The Count and Countess de Antioches are among the leading show dog owners in the United States, their variety of stock being at all leading dog shows. Mr. Bonner is also an internationally known golf player and is at Tahoe for the purpose of preparing for the approaching fall tournaments on the Pacific Coast.

LAKE TAHOE REGION

Fior D'Italia, a little touch of sunny Italy, the beautiful mountain and Lake region very similar to Tahoe and Truckee will open in Lake Forest, Tahoe City on Memorial Day.

Mrs. G. Bacchi in Tahoe from Sicily, has prepared an elaborate program for her friends on this day and is already receiving reservations for a big special chicken and Ravioli dinner with refreshments. "My sons were in the world war and I want to honor all the ex-service men and their families in the Tahoe district and especially invite the American Legion boys to visit on Memorial Day. In Tahoe and Truckee we are one big family and I think this summer will be fine for everybody." Among those making reservations are Mr. and Mrs. Paul de Camp of Lansing, Michigan, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Crawford of New York, a relative of a well known screen star, Mr. Griffith Bonner of New York and others.

Grace Fry, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Fry, has gone to the state of Washington where she will spend the summer with relatives. Miss Fry is one of the graduating class of the Hobart School.

Kenneth Plummer, grandson of Mrs. D. Lacy, has arrived here from Sacramento and will spend the summer.

Mrs. Hanna Stewart returned Sunday night after a weeks visit at Grass Valley.

Miss Alice Harry, accompanied by her mother, spent the week end with friends in Hobart, having driven over from Nevada City.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Bullard and small daughter drove to the coast over the week end.

E. C. Murray returned the latter part of last week from Santa Rosa where he attended the Knights of Pythias Convention.

Mrs. H. Siebould received word this week from Indiana that her brother Chas. Hutt had passed away suddenly. He was attending his chickens and was stricken with a heart attack which proved fatal before she could be summoned. He was a resident of Monticello, Indiana, where he had made his home for many years.

Mrs. Rolena Hoagner and small daughter of Sacramento are guests at the A. M. Murray home here.

The graduating class of the Hobart school will hold their exercises at the Hobart Hall on Friday evening, their being four graduates. Alja Caples and Ruth Siebould tied for honors as valedictorian of the class, both having the same number of credits for the year's work, so both will give a valedictorian address. Henry McLeod stands next Chas. Olds and Grace Fry are also members of the class, but as Grace Fry has gone north she will not be there to receive her diploma.

NORDEN NEWS

By C. W. KRAMER

The wily trout which make their headquarters in the Yuba River west of Norden have proven quite elusive for Louis Featsent of Tunnel Six, who has been using every known brand of latest fishing tackle and bait the past week in an endeavor to compensate himself for the many miles he has traversed the snowy banks each day.

Mrs. Harvey Bush, accompanied by her son, Harvey Jr. of Tunnel Six, spent a few days in Sacramento visiting friends and attending to business.

James Whitlock, a resident of Elder, east of Norden, has been relieving Foreman Copeland at Spruce while he is spending his time in the valley with his family.

A certain sign that the depression is a thing of the past was clearly demonstrated last Sunday in Sacramento when Joseph Northey of B&B 108 Tunnel Six was seen by several witnesses as spending money rather recklessly as he is known to be very close with his change and is regarded as one of the wealthiest citizens in these parts.

T. E. Honey Eversult of B&B 108 Tunnel Six spent the last week to good advantage in Sacramento visiting close friends and relatives.

O'BRIEN QUILTS JOB BEFORE IT IS ABOLISHED BY STATE LEGISLATURE

SACRAMENTO, Cal., May 25—(CPS)—Daniel O'Brien, state director of penology, didn't wait until his job was abolished. He quit.

O'Brien, formerly chief of police in San Francisco, has been absent in Europe for more than a year, where he went to recover his health. Upon his return, he definitely announced he had resigned.

Previous to the announcement, however, the state legislature adopted a bill abolishing the position of director of penology.

"Mamma, is that woman married?" asked little Freddie as he gazed at the statue.

"No," said his mother; "that's the Goddess of Liberty."

273 Barrels of Flour Were Distributed In Nevada County

The American Red Cross is going out of the flour business.

After distributing more than 275,000 barrels of flour to needy Californians, through the various local Red Cross chapters, the organization's supply will be depleted by June 1.

Governor Rolph has been so informed in a letter from A. L. Schaffer, manager of the Red Cross in this state.

"Unless the congress should supply us with additional wheat to be ground into flour we must discontinue local distribution about June 1," the letter said.

"We are still continuing some distribution of cotton cloth, cotton garments, sweaters, bedding, etc."

Waging a peace-time war against distress caused by unemployment and depressed conditions, the Red Cross has given valuable aid to local relief organizations through the free flour and clothing it has distributed.

In Nevada county, Governor Rolph was informed, there has been more than 273 barrels of flour passed out to the needy, and 2,142 yards of cotton cloth for clothing.

Los Angeles, Oakland and San Diego proved to be the largest beneficiaries from the distribution of flour.

In Los Angeles, 94,000 barrels were distributed, in Oakland, 25,000, and in San Diego, 17,000 barrels.

"Now that wheat prices are improving and the wheat surplus is moving I do not know what the government proposes to do about transforming the grain into flour and giving it to the Red Cross," said Governor Rolph.

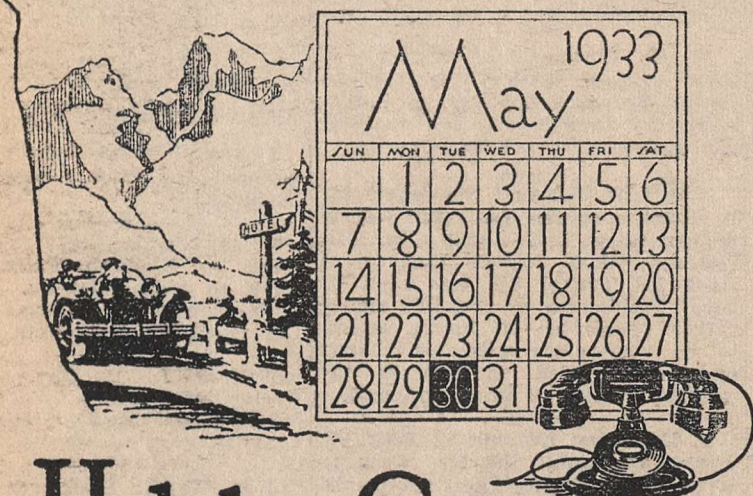

"This has been a very helpful undertaking, and I am prepared to recommend to the proper authorities in Washington that it be continued, if economically feasible."

"California has benefited greatly from this Red Cross activity, as well as every other state on the Pacific coast. I feel certain that the present national administration will do all in its power to see that it is continued."

"I love to wander in the woods and hear the birds sing."

"Yes; so do I. And you notice they never sing ragtime."

GOVERNOR ROLPH FILES UNUSUAL PAPER WITH SEC'Y OF STATE

SACRAMENTO, Cal., May 25—(CPS)—Governor James Rolph Jr. believes in the efficacy of prayer.

This was disclosed when the governor filed with Secretary of State Frank C. Jordan an executive "prayer" seeking divine aid for President and Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Old-timers said it is the most unusual document of state ever filed here.

"Give him strength, spiritually, physically and mentally, for the arduous ordeals of the morrow, prayed the governor. And give him peace and understanding."

STATE CONTRACTORS WILL BENEFIT BY THIS NEW BILL

SACRAMENTO, Cal., May 25—(CPS)—A saving of approximately $125,000 will be made annually to California contractors if Governor Rolph signs a bill now before him, providing for a 50 per cent cut in the annual registration fee of contractors from $10 to $5.

As finally adopted by the legislature, the bill retains the present $200 exemption clause, and further provides for general tightening of the provisions of the state contractors' act.

The reduced fee applies only to renewals by registered contractors, and if signed by the governor, would go into effect July 1.

GERBER, Cal., May 25—(CPS)—A Rhode Island red hen laid an egg in a flower pot on the front porch of A. C. Vanderbeek's home here last week.

That was all right, her owner said. But when the hen went maternal and started sitting on the flower pot, using the ferns, roses and flowering plants as a nest, it was too much.

"A sitting hen just doesn't fit in with a flower arbor," he declared.

STATE SCHOOL TEACHERS NOW BREATHE EASIER

SACRAMENTO, Cal., May 25—(CPS)—California school teachers breathed easier today.

A bill to postpone for 2 years the granting of tenure to teachers who are about to complete their probationary period was lost during the closing hours of the legislature because a joint senate assembly committee failed to agree.

The measure also provided that teachers reaching the age of 65 could no longer enjoy the protection of tenure.

NEWPORT BEACH, Cal., May 25—(CPS)—The city council ruled that 3.2 beer could be sold just as soon as notice of a new ordinance appeared in the local newspaper.

Welcome to the Moody Bible Institute During A Century Of Progress Exposition

Missionaries on furlough and former students engaged in Christian work are offered student rates for room and board at the Moody Bible Institute, Chicago, when they remain in the city one week or longer. For those remaining less than a week the rate will be $1.25 a day, entitling them to lodging and breakfast.

During June, July, September and October, the regular classes of the Day and Evening Schools will carry on at the maximum, and all guests may avail themselves of their privileges. For the vacation period of the Institute, August 4 to September 6, when classes are omitted, a daily program is planned which includes a morning Bible study and an evening inspirational address and praise service. These hours will be taken by special teachers and preachers, whose names will be announced later.

State Control of Narcotic Addiction Considered Excellent

SACRAMENTO, Cal., May 25—(CPS)—California has the best control over narcotic addiction of any state in the union, despite the fact that politics has played an important part in the enforcement work here.

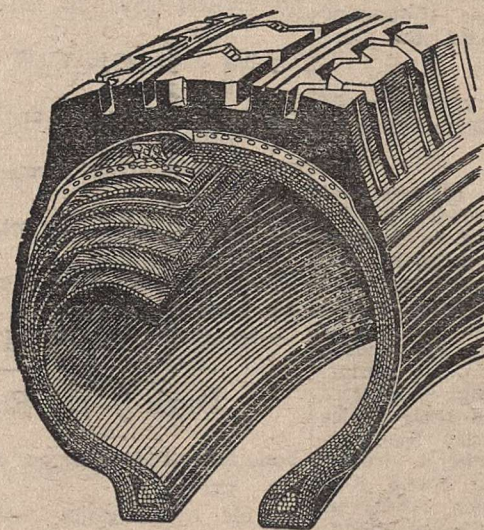

Such is the opinion of Former State Senator Sanburn Young of Los Gatos, who attended the conference in Geneva for control of the international narcotics trade, participated in by 57 nations.

"Germany, France, Switzerland, England, Holland and Turkey are the main manufacturers and exporters of narcotics," said Young. "All of them, except Turkey, joined in an agreement to limit the making and exporting of all narcotics to the actual medicinal need of the countries of the world."

The drug curse of the United States costs the nation $1,000,000 a year, Senator Young said. It largely involves the use of morphine, heroin and cocaine.

Nevada County Public Property Valued at 689,945

Public property of Nevada county represents a total value of $689,945.

This was disclosed in a report of State Controller Ray L. Riley, made in Sacramento this week.

Included in the public property listed by the controller are court house, hall of records, county jail, school buildings, county library almshouse and county hospital buildings, grounds, highway equipment and other property.

The total value of all property owned by the 53 counties of California is approximately a half-billion dollars, Riley's report showed. Los Angeles county represents more than half the total with its property valued at $241,154,963.

"Three-fourths of all county property value is represented by school buildings," said the controller. "Almshouses and county hospitals, and county court houses make up virtually the entire balance."

Although residents of each county point with pride to their schools and other public buildings, at the same time, it is pointed out, ever new holding actually represents an increase in taxation.

Acquisition of land removes that piece of property from the assessment roll, and taxes which that property represents must then be absorbed by other property on the roll.

Furthermore, new buildings are erected at the expense of the taxpayers, by funds derived either from the issuance of bonds, or from tax revenues accruing to the county's general fund.

In view of the effort being made to put over the so called Riley-Stewart tax plan at the forthcoming special election, which will have a marked effect in relieving the burden of real property, efforts are being made to have counties dispose of lands and buildings that are no longer of any use to them.

Such a move, advocates of the plan assert, would return to the tax roll a large amount of property that is now producing no tax revenue.

WINE NOW BEING OFFERED FOR SALE

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., May 25—(CPS)—Whether you like it or not, 3.2 wine is being sold here.

Its makers, however, weren't optimistic enough to label it as "wine" because the pure food laws do not recognize anything of less than 8 per cent alcohol as wine.

The bottles are labeled as "burgundy" and "sauterne," but their sale is aided by a large wine revenue stamp affixed to each container.

College Students May Now Drink Beer

SACRAMENTO, Cal., May 25—(CPS)—College students of California may now have their beer.

By a vote of 48 to 24, the assembly gave final passage to a measure amending an old law prohibiting sale of alcoholic beverages within a mile and a half of the state university.

Under the new act, sale of 3.2 beer is permitted. Lawmakers said it would make "three point two" beer as easy to get on the campus as gin.

During the debate, Assemblyman Joe Filmore of San Francisco asked this question of Assemblyman Albert H. Morgan of Berkeley, opponent of the bill:

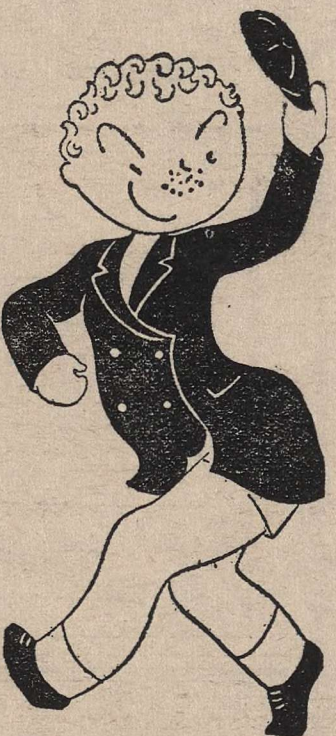

"Don't you know that in the old days before prohibition there was a restricted area around the university, but they nevertheless brought beer up to the campus doors in brewery trucks?"

Morgan replied he didn't know that.

"Well I do," retorted Filmore. "I drove one of the trucks."

LODI, Cal., May 25—(CPS)—In this case it was the right fight but the wrong boy.

Mrs. Edna Chirrick filed a complaint against Mrs. Joe Plines charging assault by "beating my boy, John, with a stick."

Witnesses said a group of 10-year-old boys were fighting. Mrs. Plines interfered, tried to strike her own son with a stick, but hit the wrong boy. The case was continued.

SLEEP—IF YOU MUST, BUT IN THE RIGHT PLACE

SALINAS, Cal., May 25—(CPS)—Next time William J. Dougherty will look before he sleeps.

He climbed into the home of Mrs. Rosie Rosuna, picked out a comfortable bed, and settled down for a snooze.

Mrs. Rosuna called police, and Dougherty finished his nap in the city jail.

WEATHER MAN PROVES ANGEL

LODI, Cal., May 25 — (CPS)—Proof that it's an ill wind that blows nobody good was seen in the American Legion picnic here.

A heavy storm blew up and the picnic was postponed.

Seven hundred dozen buns, many pounds of hot dogs, coffee and other edibles were turned over to the city for charity.

BLACKBIRD PIE NOW SERVED IN SAN FRANCISCO

MARYSVILLE, Cal., May 25 (CPS)—The "chicken tamale" you're so fond of may be only blackbird, after all.

This was the discovery of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Snow of Palo Alto who found their ranch house littered with black feathers.

Two itinerants explained they had lived in the house while trapping blackbirds for shipment to San Francisco. There the birds were made into "chicken tamales" they said.

CHICO—(CPS)—An amateur magician or a hungry tramp is sought by police following the disappearance of six white rabbits from their pen at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Browning.

SALINAS—(CPS)—This mushroom would smother a couple of steaks. It is nearly 7 inches in diameter with a stem 5 inches long and was taken from a field on the Gambetta ranch near here.

CALIFORNIA FLOWERS TO BE DISPLAYED AT CHICAGO EXPOSITION

California flowers are to have an important part in calling attention to this state at the Chicago World's Fair for the week beginning June 16, designated California Flower Festival Week. It was announced here today.

Thousands of the Golden State's most beautiful blossoms will be taken to Chicago for the occasion by a delegation of florists, growers, garden club representatives, school teachers and others, leaving Oakland on Sunday afternoon, June 11, aboard the California Flower Festival Limited.

Arrangements for the Chicago display, which will be on an all-expenses basis, and for the elaborate floral display at the fair are in charge of Merritt A. Vinson of San Francisco, general manager of the California Flower Festival.

Vinson stated a number of features have been arranged at cities en route. These include floral presentations to welcoming delegations by "Miss California" from the deluxe special train now being assembled by the Southern Pacific Company.

Henry Ford
Dearborn, Mich.

May 15, 1933

Time and again I am told—by my own organization and by others—that I penalize myself by quality.

Friendly critics protest our putting into the Ford V-8 what they call "twenty-year steel." They say such quality is not necessary; the public does not expect it; and that the public does not know the difference anyway.

But I know the difference.

I know that the car a man sees is not the car he drives—he drives the car which the engineer sees. The car which is seen, comprises beauty of design, color and attractive accessories,—all desirable, of course. The best evidence that we think so is that they are all found on the Ford V-8.

But these are not the car. The car proper, which is the basis of all the rest, is the type of engine and its reliability; the structure of chassis and body, ruggedly durable; the long thought and experiment given to safety factors; the steady development of comfort, convenience and economy. These make the car.

A car can be built that will last two or three years. But we have never built one. We want the basic material of our car to be as dependable the day it is discarded as the day it is bought. Ford cars built 15 years ago are still on the road. It costs more to build a durable car—but two items we do not skimp are cost and conscience. A great many things could "get by"—the public would never know the difference. But we would know.

The new Ford V-8 is a car that I endorse without any hesitancy. I know what is in it. I trust our whole thirty years' reputation with it. It is even better than our previous V-8. It is larger, more rugged and mechanically a better job all round.

I readily say this in an advertisement because I know the car will back it up.

PROBATION LAWS PROVE EFFECTIVE SAYS REPORT

SACRAMENTO, Cal., May 25—(CPS)—California's progressive probation laws are saving taxpayers of the state more than $3,000,000 a year and at the same time are enabling nearly 20,000 persons to stage a "comeback" in the eyes of society.

Such is the report to Governor Rolph of Rheba Crawford Spilvalo, director of the department of social welfare, who says that there are more than 11,000 boys and girls who have committed their first offense, but who are allowed to remain at liberty.

In addition, there are 9,000 adults on probation in California, of which 8,000 are first offenders who have been convicted of felonies.

BROTHER—WILL YOU PAY MY FINE?

SACRAMENTO, Cal., May 25—(CPS)—A new variation of the old "Brother can you spare a dime" plea appeared here today.

Hugh McKee, 50 year old moocher, was picked up on the streets, and when searched, was found to have $22 in cash in his pockets.

"How come?" asked Judge Will J. Carragher.

"Judge, I was saving that money for my lodge dues," said the prisoner.

"Ten days in jail," ordered Carragher.

plot to ruin Rolph's chances of reelection next year.

"When the session is all over I'll have an opportunity to discuss politics," was Merriam's comment.

DIRECTOR. J. M. Burke, Visalia attorney and member of Governor Rolph's water resources commission, has accepted the post of director of natural resources.

This became definitely known this week, as plans were made to return Daniel M. Blood, "acting director" for the last year and a half, to his old job as chief accountant in the department.

Burke's appointment was made to strengthen Rolph's position in the lower San Joaquin valley, where it is said to need strengthening.

AGRICULTURE. A. A. Brock, new state director of agriculture, who is known as the "bad boy" of the Rolph administration because he won't take orders—not even from Rolph—is causing the Rolph advisers a lot of worry.

He fires perfectly good Rolph wheelhorses from the department and retains employees who aren't so good from a political viewpoint.

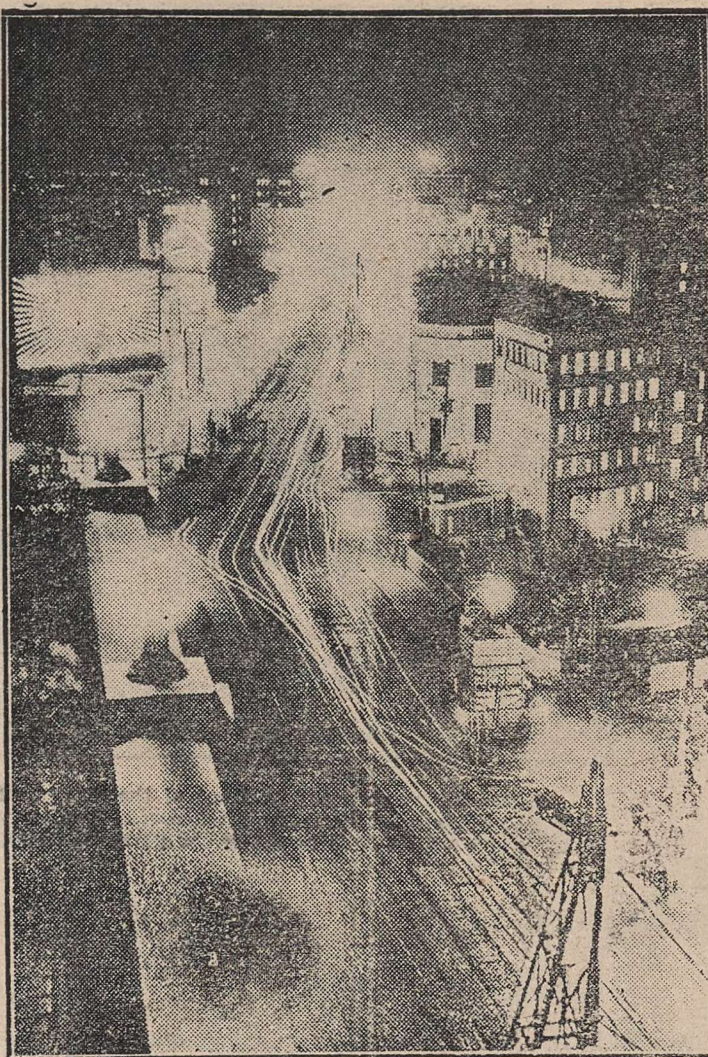

An effort is to be made to obtain the governor's veto of S. B. 981, which would take all control of the department of agriculture from the governor and turn it over to the state board of agriculture.

WRECKED. When the legislature reconvenes in July, it will be asked for $300,000 to run the department of social welfare for the next two years. The budget adopted this month allotted only $144,000.

"This was nothing but false economy," said Director Vandegrift. "It means more delay in sending checks for old age pensions, relief to the blind, orphan aid, etc. It would virtually wreck the administration of these aids."

SNAPSHOTS. Paul Scharrenberg, secretary of the state federation of labor, took a shot at Governor Rolph in his legislative report. The lawmakers were "utterly without the guiding hand of a governor" he said. Most of the work of the Bush fact finding committee in the senate went for naught. Nearly all their bills were defeated. The senate sent out for lunch when it was locked up the last few nights. Senator R. R. Ingels, economy leader, protested the bill, which averaged $1 per person

NEVADA CO. BONDED INDEBTEDNESS $143,750

Bonded indebtedness of California counties has slowed down almost to a halt.

After registering the first decrease in 13 years, the total bonded debt of the 58 counties showed only a slight gain last year, of approximately $1,000,000.

This was disclosed in a statement to Governor Rolph in Sacramento, by State Controller Ray L. Riley. In 1931 the total county bonded debt was $452,702,275, the report said, as compared with $453,749,013 last year.

The total bonded indebtedness of Nevada county was $143,750 last year, it was shown, of which a total of $143,750 represented district bonds outstanding and the remainder, county bonds.

State Controller Riley hopes that the return of better business conditions will not be the signal for an orgy of unrestrained spending on the part of counties, but the redemption dates of bonds far in the future.

"Why should the present generation saddle tremendous burdens upon the next?" he asked. "If the bonded indebtedness will provide something permanent and a future asset, long time payment is justified. But it is not fair to spend money thoughtlessly now, with the knowledge that those spending it will never assume the burden."

Sale of Hetch Hetchy bonds by San Francisco is responsible for the upward trend of municipal indebtedness, Riley contended.

"With all branches of government facing deficits, the total outstanding debt becomes of paramount interest," he said. "At present this figure is almost unobtainable."

"Irrigation districts at present carry a bonded debt of approximately $80,000,000 but since the controller receives no report from these subdivisions, little if any of this amount is carried in the total district bond figure."

"Provision should be made requiring collection and publication of debt information at regular intervals by some governmental agency."

The coffee, he said, was charged at $1 per gallon, sandwiches, 35 cents each, and pie, 15 cents per cut. Joseph Nolan, sergeant at arms, was authorized to iron out the difficulty.

Ten Propositions To Appear On Ballot June 27

SACRAMENTO, Cal., May 25—(CPS)—California voters will be asked to pass judgment upon 10 propositions to appear upon the ballot at the special election June 27.

This was announced today by Secretary of State Frank C. Jordan, after a final checkup upon constitutional amendments adopted by the state legislature.

The 10 propositions will be as follows:

1. S. C. A. 30—Riely-Stewart tax plan, providing relief for real estate, and calling for repeal of Amendment No. 1, the present tax system.

2. S. C. A. 41—$20,000,000 state bond issue to provide funds for distribution to the 58 counties for unemployment relief.

3. A. C. A. 119—Legalizing betting at horse races under the pari-mutuel plan.

4. A. C. A. 47—Tax exemption for private schools.

5. A. C. A. 101—Long Beach and Orange county earthquake reassessment.

6. A. C. A. 16—$55,000,000 state bond issue for refinancing irrigation districts.

7. A. C. A. 108—Providing all bills signed by the governor during the recess shall go into effect 90 days after May 22.

8. S. C. A. 16—Authorizing county boards of supervisors to fix the salaries of various county officials.

9. Diversion of $8,770,750 in gasoline tax revenue to the general fund of the state for budget balancing purposes during 1933-34.

10. Diversion of $8,449,326 in gasoline tax revenue to the general fund during 1935-36.

A proposition calling for repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment will appear on a separate election ballot, according to Charles J. Hagerty, deputy secretary of state.

May 18 was the last date to register for this election, at which electors to a state repeal convention will be selected. A minimum of 100 signatures is necessary to place an elector's name on the ballot.

HOMEMAKERS who are always on the lookout for interesting recipes to brighten the meals on fast days will be interested in some of those in today's column. Since canned fish is used in the recipes they may be used the year round even though you happen to live in sections of the country where fresh sea food is not available.

The unusual filling for the fish sandwiches in the first menu calls for one cup of flaked fish—salmon, tuna fish or crabmeat may be used. Soften two tablespoons of gelatin in one-half cup of meat stock or water. Beat two egg yolks until light, season well with two teaspoons salt, one teaspoon mustard and one-half teaspoon of pepper. Add one cup of hot milk and the softened gelatin and cook in the top of a double boiler for three minutes. Add four tablespoons of hot vinegar, gradually, stirring until thickened. Add one cup of cold, flaked fish. Mix and turn into a wet mold. Chill thoroughly and when firm cut into thin slices.

Cantaloup dices and sweetened whipped cream make a quick, easy dessert that finishes this luncheon. Beat one-half pint of cream until very stiff, adding four tablespoons of powdered sugar a little at a time. Keep about one-third of the cream for garnishing and to the remainder add two tablespoons of chopped nut meats, a few grains of salt and one cup of small cantaloup dices. Place in sherbet glasses, garnish with the reserved cream pressed through a pastry bag and serve very cold. Pears, ripe peaches, apricots or bananas are equally good served in place of the cantaloup.

Crabmeat and bacon rolls are deliciously flavored and pretty. Bone and flake one cup of crabmeat, then add one slightly beaten egg, one-half cup of tomato juice, one cup of bread crumbs, one-fourth teaspoon salt, one-eighth teaspoon pepper, one teaspoon chopped parsley, and one teaspoon of chopped celery leaves. Mold into finger-length croquettes and wrap each roll with a strip of bacon. Fasten with toothpicks. Place on the rack in the broiling pan so the excess fat will drain off. Broil, turning frequently so all sides will be browned and the bacon crisp. This makes eight rolls and will serve four.

For a dessert which is easy to make, prepare four large slices of cinnamon toast, cut it into small triangles and place in a shallow baking dish. Cover with two and one-half cups of slightly sweetened apple sauce. Beat the whites of two eggs until stiff, then heat in three tablespoons of powdered sugar, one teaspoon of lemon juice and one-half teaspoon of lemon rind. Pile the meringue in little peaks over the apple sauce and bake in a slow oven for fifteen or twenty minutes. Serve at once. This is enough for six.

"Ancient and Modern Necromancy, alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon Sunday, May 28, in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The Golden Text will be: "If God be for us, who can be against us?" (Rom. 8:31). Other Bible citations will include: "Submit yourselves therefore to God. Resist the devil, and he will flee from you. Draw nigh to God, and he will draw nigh to you." (James 4:7, 8).

The Lesson Sermon also will include the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Mortal mind, acting from the basis of sensation in matter, is animal magnetism; but this so called mind, from which comes all evil, contradicts itself, and must finally yield to the eternal Truth, or the divine Mind, expressed in Science." (p. 178).

Monterey Youth Is Saved From Drowning By Stranger

WELFARE OF INDIANS WILL BE GIVEN BETTER CONSIDERATION

SACRAMENTO, Cal., May 25—(CPS)—Welfare of California Indians will be the subject of a conference in Sacramento by state and federal officials, it is announced by Visiting Kersey, state superintendent of public instruction.

A committee will be appointed at the session to develop a co-operative plan for Indian education and service. The home life and economic status of the Indian, as well as vocational opportunities and other self-support problems, will be discussed.

O. H. Lipps, superintendent of the northern division of the United States Indian Service, is to attend.

SPEAKEASY OPERATOR IS NOW HARD HIT

LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 25—(CPS)—Return of beer has resulted in bootleg liquor prices dropping as low as 75 cents a pint for the "aged in the bottle" variety, a checkup here revealed.

This same booze sold last Christmas time at $2.50 to $3.00.

Gin that sold a few months ago for $3.00 to $4.50 a fifth is now being offered for 50 cents to $2.

Speakeasy beer has dropped from 25 cents a glass to 15 cents over the bar—and they're putting on less foam.

MAN IS ARRESTED FOR BEGGING IN S.F.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., May 25—(CPS)—"Brother, can you spare a dime?" said Nils Stanwig, 45, and was arrested for begging.

Before Municipal Judge A. J. Fritz he was asked to explain a bank book in his possession, showing more than $600 to his credit.

"I can't," stammered Stanwig. "Okay," said the judge. "You're fined $5, which will be used to buy meal tickets for unemployed men who don't beg."

The fine was promptly paid.

Mrs. Charles Swanson, wife of deputy sheriff Charles Swanson of Lake Tahoe, was a visitor in town on Tuesday.

Word has been received in town that Charles White, resident manager of the Bank of America and president of the Truckee Chamber of Commerce, is ill in San Francisco. Mr. White left town some time ago on a vacation trip over the Redwood Highway. His many friends in town hope for his speedy recovery.

NEW LAWYER WILL LOCATE IN TRUCKEE

Mr. E. E. Wood, who has practiced law in California for thirty years, and who has been located in Los Angeles, has rented law offices in the Masonic Building and will soon conduct a general law practice in Truckee.

Mr. Wood comes to Truckee especially well recommended, and will fill a long felt want in the community.

INCREASE IN ALCOHOLIC DEATHS PREDICTED

By HOMER ROBERTS
(California Press Service Writer)
Special to The Truckee Republican
SACRAMENTO, Cal., May 25—(CPS)—The year 1933 will see an increase in deaths from alcohol in California.

Such is the prediction of state health authorities, who point out that the return of beer and removal of restrictions on the prescription of medicinal wine and whiskey will naturally bring about an increase in consumption of the beverages.

Last year marked the first break in a steady increase of deaths from alcoholism since prohibition. It was asserted. What caused the drop is difficult to explain, except that it may have been the depression, and people had less money to spend for liquor.

Work on the construction of the new Filippic Building is being pushed and the building is rapidly taking form. The new structure is supposed to be completed by the middle of June.

In 1918, the year before prohibition, California had 192 deaths from alcoholism, and 422 from cirrhosis of the liver, directly attributable to alcohol, figures of the state department of public health disclosed.

In 1920, the second year after prohibition, the number of deaths reached the new low point of 37 from alcoholism and 286 from cirrhosis. From then on the number climbed steadily.

The effect of alcohol upon large masses of people has been cold-bloodedly investigated by several

PARROTS UNDER SUSPICION BY BOARD OF HEALTH

SACRAMENTO, Cal., May 25—(CPS)—Parrots and parakeets in California are still under suspicion of the state board of health.

Drastic regulations resulting from the epidemic of psittacosis were lifted this month permitting the release of parakeets under a 30-day isolation period, said Dr. Giles S. Porter, director of public health.

Fifty-three aviaries were immediately released when 10 per cent of the birds were found free of infection. These aviaries held 7,700 parakeets. More than 20,000 birds are still under surveillance.
